HARDY JAPANESE AZALEAS

The following varieties are generally known as Hardy Japanese or Kurume Azaleas. Size of flowers and leaves are generally smaller and slow grower compared with Indica varieties. However, they have more number of blooms usually and far more resisting power against freeze.

CHRISTMAS CHEER—Compact grower with small shiny leaves. Deepest crimson flowers are small but very attractive, and one of best variety.

CORAL BELL.—A pleasing coral pink color shading deeper toward center. The flower, very dainty and produced profusely. Hose-in-Hose type. Low, compact growing.

HINODEGIRI—Most popular hardy Japanese azalea. Dwarf compact grower. Leaves glossy green, roundish. Abundant flowers of bright scarlet color. Ideal for pot plant.

MALVATICA—Light purple flower with roundish, light green leaves.

HINAMOYO—Fast growing upright branches are clothed with small size light colored leaves. Beautiful shade of soft pink flowers will hide the plant.

MACHRANTHA—Single flowering—Large flower of clear pink, very late, low headed, compact.

MACRANTHA—Double—Double flower of large size with clear pink. Very late, also a few blossoms open through the summer. Compact, but rather upright.

PINK BEAUTY—Large trusses of beautiful salmon-pink, semi-double flowers.

YAYE GIRI—Beautiful salmon-red, semi-double flowers produced in abundance. Foliage distinct, being narrow and of a warm, intense green. One of the most showy of the Azaleas.

CAMELLIA JAPONICAS

Known in the South as the Japonica. We are growers and collectors of this most beautiful flower. We have now over 20,000 plants, and our collection comprises more than 50 distinct varieties. Our Camellias for lining out are pot-grown, larger sizes are grown under slat houses, transplanted once a year, those securing a fibrous root system, which renders them easy to transplant, superior roots.

As most people understand that Camellia Names have not been standardized, it is practically impossible to know exactly that some of the names are correct, and for this reason we are still giving the best description of the blooms that we can write when plants are in bloom.

Some outstanding varieties which are in a class by themselves.

We are indeed fortunate to have secured a limited number of these beautiful Camellias, which are without doubt the most beautiful Camellias in the world today.

Victoria Emanuel the most beautiful red Japonica in the world (the original plant some years ago imported from France can be seen in the Bellengraths Gardens.

NAGASAKI—Semi-double, very large flower, some measure $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6 inches in diameter. Bright red irregularly marked with white. Leaves medium to large, roundish, thick and coarsely serrated, dark glossy green. Some have yellow variegation. Blooms January to February.

CLEOPATRA—Our recent introduction. Flower is large, semi-double to double with crinkled petals. Color is brilliant cherry red, very beautiful. (Supply very limited.)

The Pride of the Empress Gardens. Flowers varigated red, pink and white. Flowers measure 6 inches in diameter the largest Japonica in the world.

The lost Flower of the Incas. In this one we have the most beautiful shade of salmon blush we have ever seen.

The supply is very limited and we only can furnish the above mentioned plants in one year sizes from pots at 50 cents each. 10 for $4.00.
